ABOUT US

Family Medicine is a division of primary care that provides continuing and comprehensive healthcare to patients at all stages in life. Family medicine physicians have the distinct competency to take care of everyone, from newborns to seniors, and focus on treating the whole person.

In addition to a medical degree, family medicine physicians must successfully complete a three-year accredited family medicine residency. Residency training includes rotations in:

- Internal medicine
- Geriatrics
- Pediatrics
- Emergency Services
- Obstetrics-gynecology
- Surgery
- Psychiatry
- Dermatology

Family medicine physicians at PIH Health are all board-certified and deliver a wide range of medical care, including acute, chronic and preventative services. They not only diagnose and treat illnesses but also provide routine check-ups, health risk assessments, immunizations, health screenings and personal counseling to maintain a healthy lifestyle. Family medicine physicians also manage chronic conditions by working closely with other specialties.

Family medicine physicians at PIH Health have earned either an MD (Doctor of Medicine) or DO (Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine). DO physicians have the same rights, privileges and responsibilities as MDs, however they have additional training in hands-on manual manipulation of the body's musculoskeletal system.

The foundation of family medicine physicians is the ongoing patient-physician relationship. This means our family medicine physicians follow all aspects of your healthcare by piecing together all or your visits, including specialty, after hours or hospitalizations, taking an active role in your health and making informed healthcare decisions. PIH Health family medicine physicians become a part of their patients' lives through many stages of life.
