We need this record to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements. This notice applies to all of the records of your care generated by the hospital or its entities, whether made by hospital/entity personnel or your personal doctor. Your personal doctor may have different policies or notices regarding the doctor’s use and disclosure of your medical information created in the doctor’s office or clinic.

This notice will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose medical information about you. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of medical information.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose medical information. For each category of use or disclosure we will explain what we mean and will give some examples. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

For Treatment

We may use your medical information to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose your medical information to doctors, nurses, pharmacists, technicians, medical students and residents, or any other PIH Health personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. In addition, the doctor may need to tell the dietician if you have diabetes so that we can arrange for appropriate meals or diet plan. Different departments of PIH Health may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the different things you need, such as prescriptions, lab work, and x-rays. We also may disclose medical information about you to people outside the hospital who may be involved in your medical care, such as your primary care physician, family members, skilled nursing facilities, home health agencies, clergy, social service personnel or others that are part of your continued care. When required by law, PIH Health will provide language assistance services to patients with language or communication barriers. If you are a limited-English speaking or non-English speaking individual, we may share information about you to individuals who can speak English and your native language so that we can coordinate your care and/or obtain your permission for treatment. This person could be a designated staff member, a member of your family, a friend, or an interpreter that the hospital contracts with for these services.

For Payment
We may use and disclose medical information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at the hospital may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company, or a third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about a service you received at PIH Health so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the surgery. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment. Your health information may also be disclosed to affiliated healthcare providers who participated in your care such as ambulance companies, durable medical equipment suppliers, and contracted physicians such as radiologists, pathologists, anesthesiologists, and emergency department physicians.

For Health Care Operations
We may use and disclose your medical information for PIH Health operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the hospital/entity and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use medical information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine medical information about many hospital/entity patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, and other personnel for review and learning purposes. We may also combine the medical information we have with medical information from other PIH Health patients to compare how we are doing and see where we can make improvements in the care and services we offer. In these instances, we may limit the medical information provided so that they cannot identify you when they use it to study health care and health care delivery.

Appointment Reminders
We may use and disclose medical information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for treatment or medical care.

Treatment Alternatives
We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Patient Information Communication Boards
Patient Information communication boards may be used at certain facilities within PIH Health such as in the Emergency Department, Operating Room, and Special Care Units or in your patient room while you are receiving care. These boards are used to make your treatment more efficient. Every effort will be made to keep them out of the public's view, but convenient for the staff coordinating your care. The boards may contain your name, age, physician's name, room number, and diagnosis. The information posted will be limited to the minimum necessary to provide your care.
Health-Related Products and Services
We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about health-related products or services that may be of interest to you.

Fundraising Activities
We may contact you or disclose your limited medical information to the PIH Health Foundation to provide information about PIH Health sponsored activities, including fundraising programs and events for PIH Health and its operations and community. This contact may include visits by designated PIH Health staff while admitted as an inpatient at PIH Health to provide you such information and other assistance. Consistent with the Health Information Portability and Accountability (HIPAA) regulations as amended, we would only release contact information, such as your name, address, phone number, age, gender, health insurance status, the dates you received treatment or services at PIH Health, department of service, treating physician, and general treatment outcome information.

In all fundraising communications you will be provided a clear and conspicuous opportunity to “opt out” from receiving any such future communications or contact. Your religious affiliation may be given to a member of the clergy, such as a pastor, priest, or rabbi, even if they don’t ask for you by name. This information is released so that your family, friends, and clergy can visit you in the hospital. You may opt out of the directory by notifying registration or admitting staff.

For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with the patients’ need for privacy of their medical information. Before we use or disclose medical information for research, clinical trial/registries the project will have been approved through this research approval process. We may, however, disclose medical information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project, for example, to help them look for patients with specific medical needs, so long as the medical information they review does not leave the hospital.
